DRIVE CHAIRMAN AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NAMED

CURTAIN RISES ON CONVENTION IN ONE MONTH

Herbert Hoover Is Within Striking Distance of Nomination

380 DELEGATES PLEDGED TO HIM

Probably Can Count On 80 More; Lowden Next With About 200

Washington, May 12.—One month from today, on June 12, the Republicans foregather at Kansas City to nominate a candidate for the presidency.

Most of the 1089 delegates have been chosen. Only a handful of states are yet to select their representatives for the quadrennial drama.

Many of the delegates have been instructed or committed, but a survey of the field today disclosed that at Kansas City, as elsewhere in other years, the uninstructed and "doubtful" delegates hold the whip-hand.

A month before the curtain rises, Herbert Hoover is within striking distance of the nomination. He has by far the most committed delegates.

The most reliable tabulation available in Washington gives him 380 as of today, and he probably can count upon 80 others from the friendly states of New Jersey, Texas, Alabama, Wyoming and Florida which are still to act. But this leaves him still nearly 100 votes short of the 545 majority necessary to nominate.

Next in line is Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. The same table accords the grain belt candidate approximately 200 delegates.

The balance of the field, made up of favorite sons and dark horses, are strung out far in the rear.

The big delegations from New York and Pennsylvania, controlling 169 votes between them, hold the whip-hand in the situation at present, and little doubt was expressed here today that these leaders, practical politicians all, are going to Kansas City one month from today with their whip-hands intact.

Substantial confirmation of this is due in Philadelphia today when the 79 delegates from the Keystone state meet for organization. W. L. Mellon, chairman of the Pennsylvania state committee, and nephew.

HOPING AGAINST HOPE TO ENACT TAX BILL TODAY

Administration Trying to Push Vote Despite Lack of Interest

Washington, May 12.—In the face of a lack of interest, that has nearly assumed filibuster proportions, administration leaders today were hoping against hope for a final vote in the senate before nightfall on the $203,000,000 tax reduction bill.

With enactment of the administration bill assured through a Republican-insurgent coalition, senators on both sides of the chamber blocked action on the bill.

Final action on the corporation and surtax rates will be followed by passage of the bill, as all other undetermined rates are of minor importance or are not subject to partisan controversy.

After two weeks of debate, only four controversial rates were fixed, although all new administrative features were determined. A number of other rates were approved by cause both Republicans and Democrats recommended the same reductions.

These changes, so far as the senate bill is concerned, represent a total slash of $95,130. The administration plan also called for an $82,600,000 slash in corporation taxes, by reduction at the rate from 13 to 12 1/2 per cent, and a $25,000,000 reduction in surtaxes. The three amounts would total $202,730,000, or the total tax reduction agreed to by the administration and insurgent coalition.

The federal estate tax will remain unchanged. The insurgents joined the coalition on this condition, after Secretary of the Treasury Mellon recommended its repeal.

COUNTY MEET IS AT REILLY FIELD

Red and Black Do Well In Prelims; Qualify 8 In Finals

The silver jubilee track and field meet of Columbiana county is being held at Reilly field today. Several hundred attended the preliminaries this morning.

It was a perfect day for the event, with moderate temperature. The track is fast and at least two records are expected to be broken during the day.

Salem High looked like the big favorite to win the championship for the fourth consecutive year after qualifying two men for the finals in seven of the nine preliminaries, and one man in the other two preliminaries.

No outstanding marks were made. All the record-breaking that will be done was expected this afternoon, as the athletes were saving themselves for the finals.

Allen Beats English

The features of this morning's races was the duel between Elmer English, Liverpool star runner and Lowell Allen, national indoor pole vault champion who is entering in several events. Allen won his heat of the 100 in the prelims in two-tenths seconds faster than English, and beat him by five yards in the semi-finals.

English was the big favorite to take the event.

Herman Litty, Salem High hurdler, took a bad fall taking his heat of the 100. He was ten yards ahead of the nearest man, but the fall delayed him and he finished second. He suffered a sprained wrist in the fall.

Two men were placed by Salem in every event but the shot and high hurdles. Only one was entered in these events.

HERRON FACING LIFE SENTENCE AFTER VERDICT

Jury Finds Him Guilty In Second Degree For Girl's Murder

New Philadelphia, O., May 12.—William Herron, alleged murderer of his sister-in-law, Miss Viola May, 23, on a lonely automobile ride on the night of February 7, today faced life imprisonment following a verdict of a common pleas court jury last night, finding him guilty of murder in the second degree.

He will be sentenced by Common Pleas Judge Eli E. Lindsay either today or early next week.

The jury returned the second degree murder verdict after deliberating five hours. The twelve men and women retired at 4:45 and returned at 10:20 last night. Herron heard the verdict with calmness and without visible signs of emotion.

No appeal will be taken, it was indicated by Henry Bowers, senior defense counsel for Herron. The second-degree murder verdict carries with it a sentence of life imprisonment.

Herron was alleged to have slain Miss May during the course of an argument over his attentions to her on a lonely automobile ride on the night of February 7. Herron, earlier in the evening, started to take Miss May and her chum, Miss Evelyn Freiz, home after they visited with his wife. He and Miss May went riding after taking Miss Freiz home.

The state alleged that Herron choked Miss May to death after she resisted his advances. Herron claimed that he had been intimate with her and that during a quarrel in which she threatened a quarrel, he pushed her from him and she slumped into the seat of his automobile, dead. He threw her body into the river, he testified, after becoming frantic with fear. Her body was found seven weeks later.

An autopsy by Coroner J. P. Lewis upon the body of the girl was said to have corroborated Herron's statement that the girl did not die of suffocation.

BISHOP CLEARED OF ALL CHARGES

Methodists Pass by Claim Made by Rev. Cook, of Wilmington, Del.

Kansas City, Mo., May 12.—Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Pittsburgh area of the Methodist Episcopal church was cleared today of all charges made against him by the Rev. George A. Cook of Wilmington, Del.

The general conference of the church in session here almost unanimously voted to pass by all the charges which had been preferred on the grounds of "immorality."

The charge did not involve moral turpitude and had grown out of doctrinal dissension beginning when both Rev. Cook and Bishop McConnell were in a seminary.

Bishop McConnell arose before the conference and asked for a vote on the charges and that his name be cleared. Only a few dissenting votes were heard.

SERVED TERMS AS SOLON AND SERVICE CHIEF

Succumbs Friday Night To Long Illness At Lincoln Ave. Home

WAS RESIDENT HERE 46 YEARS

Took Active Interest In Affairs of City And Democratic Party

Death last night claimed the life of James E. McNeelan, 62, former city official and a prominent citizen of Salem for many years.

He succumbed at 8:30 p. m., Friday at his home, 109 Lincoln ave., after a long illness. This illness recently resulted in his resignation as a member of city council, a post to which he was elected last November, but which he was never able to fill.

James Emmerson McNeelan was born in Navarre, O., the son of Hiram and Jane Huston McNeelan. He moved to Salem from Homeworth while in young manhood, and he had lived in this city about 46 years.

Mr. McNeelan was always interested in the civic life of the community. He served as a member of the old board of public service before state law dispensed with such a board, and then he was appointed service director by the late Mayor Al Carlisle, serving two terms.

He was previously a member of city council, and it was with much interest that he anticipated taking his seat again in council this year. But his illness prevented this hope and he resigned so that his chair could be occupied.

Always a staunch Democrat, Mr. McNeelan took an active interest in the affairs of his party, and he had a wide acquaintance in the party in this part of the state.

He was affiliated with the Methodist church and was a member of the Masons and Odd Fellows. For years he was employed by the Silver Mfg. Co. and held responsible positions in the plant.

In 1894 he married Eva Gamble, who survives with a brother, Thomas McNeelan, of Salem, and a sister, Mrs. Luther Sheehan, East Canton.

Funeral service will be at the home at 2:30 p. m. Monday; burial in Hope cemetery.

MOTHER' THEME OF CLARKE TALK SUNDAY NIGHT

"A Sensible Talk on Mother" will be the fourth and last in the series of "sensible talks" given at the First Baptist church by Rev. A. M. Clarke Sunday night.

The others were on "Marriage," "Home," and "Women" and each time the church was comparatively well filled.

"Everyone living has had a mother and it is expected a large number of people will honor her by going to church tomorrow," Rev. Clarke says.

"Why is Motherhood so honored in the world? Is every mother worthy of honor, or are they deserving of contempt and denunciation? Is the sacrifice she makes for her children good or bad for them? How do we best honor her? These are a few of the questions dealt with in the message."

The service starts at 7:30 p. m.

Ohio Oratorical Champion Loses To Worcester, Mass., Boy In Zone Final At Troy

Troy, N. Y., May 12.—Charles J. Olson, Jr., 18 years old and six feet one inch in height, of the Worcester (Mass.) High school tonight won the international oratorical contest national semi-finals in competition with nine other young men and women representatives of seven of the United States.

Judges were unable to arrive at an unanimous decision on their initial ballot. Each of the three judges voting one place to Olson, Miss Roberta F. Powers of Morrisville, (Vt.) High school and Harry Emmons Glass of Ottawa Hills High school, Grand Rapids, Mich.

In the matter of low points tallied for each of the three contestants receiving a first place award there was as wide a divergence of opinion among the judges as the first position balloting indicated. There then remained but one thing for the judges to do. Under the rules governing the international contest, they had to go into conference and select the winner from among the students receiving a first place award and the low totals in point computation.

When this was done the judges made the award for Olson unanimously. The young Michigan student was awarded second place, which makes him alternate in the North-east United States zone. No other positions were decided, none being necessary.

One cow suffering from rabies, owned by John DeSelle, Highlandtown-Salineville rd., died last Monday and another similarly afflicted was shot Friday by County Dog Warden C. E. Donahay.

A nine-year-old son of DeSelle, who was bitten on the right leg by a stray dog several weeks ago, is recovering.

DeSelle, when he went to his barn Friday, observed a cow prancing about a box stall, butting its head against the sides of the stall and frothing at the mouth. Donahay was summoned from Lisbon.

It is said that farmers in that part of Washington township observed a stray dog running about barn yards, but DeSelle is said to have been the only one to have his stock bitten.

The boy has been under a course of treatment for two weeks. Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner, held a conference with DeSelle Saturday morning.

ENCOURAGING WARFARE

By its actions of the last twenty-four hours the Tokio government apparently has gone on record in favor of open warfare in an effort to bring about a dissolution of the Chinese Nationalist aspirations.

Seizing a railroad in pursuance of its self-evident policy of hampering the Chinese Nationalist operations in the Shantung sector, is tantamount to an open declaration of war. In fact, it is pretty generally conceded by observers that Japan has gone to war with China.

Tokio seeks to justify whatever measures have been adopted by the declaration that only defensive measures are being invoked, but certainly the seizure of a railroad and the throwing up of fortifications and the issuance of ultimatums to the Chinese Nationalists cannot be termed anything but offensive measures.

Japan says offensive measures are invoked only where the armed Nationalists have resisted the Japanese attempts to clear out a revenue zone around Shantung.

Save for a formal declaration of war, it is apparent to everyone who takes the time to read news dispatches from the seat of trouble, that Japan is in actual hostilities with Nationalist China.

Just what Japan has to fear from a strong Nationalist government in China is not apparent at once to the average American, who at best has only a hazy comprehension of what all the trouble is about in China anyhow. Most assuredly China, whether Nationalist or Federalist or whatnot, can offer no serious economic opposition to Japan.

On the other hand, Japan's aggression in China—far that is the only possible view to be taken of conditions there in the last day or so—certainly lays the Tokio government open to a suspicion of seeking personal aggrandizement by overrunning the eastern part of the Chinese empire, and thwarts all Japanese declarations of being a peace-loving nation.

Just what the World Powers will do in the present situation is a matter of conjecture. It is practically a certainty that the Powers will not stand aside and watch Japan carry out any seriously aggressive measures against the Chinese Nationalists. Such a course of action on the part of the Powers would be tacit understanding that the Tokio course has approval of the other powers.

There is an economic side to the question which the Tokio government may not have considered. If Japan is the aggressor against the Chinese Nationalists—if Japan is seeking to thwart the will of the majority in China, and wants to weaken the Nationalist cause, which would seem to be the ascendancy—then the World Powers would most assuredly be justified in invoking economic pressure to bring Japan to its senses.

Eastern China and Japan are powder casks. An explosion might start a conflagration which would involve more than these two countries and their nationalists. The world cannot permit anything to happen in the Far East which will again endanger its peace. The Powers must halt this trouble before it gets out of hand.

Strong measures may be needed to quell the belligerent attitude of the Japanese. And at this writing this certainly seems to be a belligerent attitude.

What Others Say

SPARE THE WILD FLOWERS
Winter retreats once more. The scene of wild flowers and fruit seems approaches. Likewise, the scene of family excursions to the woods and orchards, primarily to picnic, but incidentally to pick the blossoms upon which nature depends for the perpetuation of plant life.

Extinction already so perilously threatens several of Minnesota's best flora, that the state legislature has found it necessary to forbid the sale of any species of lady-slipper, orchid, lily, trillium, lotus or gentian, gathered or dug from state land; or from privately-owned land without the owner's written consent. But this law against sale holds no terrors for the thoughtless thousands who go forth each year to pluck and uproot, not only the protected blossoms, but blossoms of every other sort, not to sell them, but to let them wither and die on the way home.

A wild flower or a fruit blossom, left alive in field, wood or orchard, delights the eye of every person who chances to pass that way. The same flower, plucked or uprooted, is stuffed and admired for a while in a dusty automobile, and then tossed aside the moment its petals start wilting.

But that is the least of the damage done by the thoughtless flower picker. The gathered blossom will never produce the seed essential to the perpetuation of its species. Every violet torn from the woods means fewer violets next year. And every flowering branch torn from an apple tree means fewer apples for the owner of that tree, not only this year, but for all the remaining years of the tree's life.

If we Americans were half as civilized as we let on to be, we would spend our holidays admiring nature's flowers as nature made them, and we would leave them as nature made them, and return to our homes with hands empty, but with minds loaded with memories of nature's marvelous beauties. —Minneapolis Journal.

"THE RIGHT STUFF"

A writer "on the inside" says of General Motors:

"It has one outstanding problem, greater than any problem of sales, prices or supply; the problem of finding men big enough to fill its general offices."

What does that mean to a young man entering at the bottom? It means that the men above him will be constantly looking for signs of ability. It means that there is no limit to the heights to which he can rise, if he has the right stuff in him. The same is true of every other business.

But what is this "right stuff"? Adaptability, persistency and patience. And the most trying of these is patience.

You don't find in the big men of General Motors, or any other big business, men who have aeroplaned from the bottom of the ladder to the top, save in occasional instances when father's power or other "pull" has done the lifting.

But this is the age of rush, the age of get-rich-quick, anyway, get somewhere, and there never before was a period so full of temptations for the young man to abandon his visions of a career.

One of the "signs of ability" for which the big fellows already at the top are looking is stick-to-it-iveness. General Motors is mushroom-like in its growth, but it is run by fellows who served long and hard at something—Columbus Citizen.

KNOWLEDGE OF FOOD BIG HEALTH FACTOR

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner Health, New York City

A breakdown in the nourishment of the body is the most serious affliction that can come to any person, man or woman, grown-up or child. It is bad enough in itself, but, what is far worse, it means the destruction of the first line of defense.

You are not likely to have tuberculosis, Bright's disease, heart disease, a dangerous form of anemia, or any chronic illness, if the nutrition is good. But when it falls below normal, danger is ahead.

Even though the quality and quantity of the food are among the factors having most to do with nutrition, it is not among the poor, with little money to buy food, that we get our examples of undernourishment. The rich and the educated are just as likely to be victims.

Chesterton spoke of the "ignorance of the educated." In knowledge of foods there is poverty among the rich. A man may know everything except how to live. He may be rich in houses and lands, but poor in knowing what to eat and what not to eat.

In the selection of foods, it is necessary not only to have enough to eat, but also to have foods that supply the essential elements for growth, repair and proper nourishment. In this matter quality is even more important than quantity.

What are the required elements for proper nourishment? There must be a sufficient supply of protein food of high quality. Most of this comes from animal sources, but not all of it by any means. The vegetables and cereals contribute a high percentage. Of course milk does, too, but I am including it in the animal foods.

There cannot be a properly nourished body without fat, the mineral salts and the important vitamins. Really, it should not be difficult to choose the absolutely necessary foods, but in thousands of homes they are not provided. Coffee, bread and sweets, good as they are in the right place, can never be complete substitutes for milk, cereals, fresh fruit and green vegetables.

There are certain food habits that make for undernourishment. The first of these is irregularity in eating. Another is eating between meals, particularly of things that do the body no good, but which interfere with the enjoyment of the real foods served at the regular meals. Eating too fast, without chewing the food thoroughly, is another and a common fault.

Worry, overwork, loss of sleep, hours in poorly ventilated rooms—all these are factors in breaking down resistance and producing undernourishment. Overactivity of body and mind has its effects upon the general welfare.

Neglect of the skin, failure of kidney and bowel elimination, avoidance of water drinking and overlooking anything having to do with personal hygiene are other matters which bear upon the nourishment of the body. Neglect of the teeth, tonsils and other physical defects is a mistake. You cannot afford to disregard these matters.

I wish I could impress upon you the necessity for keeping your body nourished, firm, elastic and fit in every way. When you order your life in such a way as to avoid undernourishment you will be raising your resistance to disease and promoting your chance of long life.

"THINK OF THIS"

Palm 119-104 "Through the process I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way."

A wealthy attorney took his wife and two daughters to Palm Beach for a winter holiday. Both children were drowned while bathing and the wife died of grief not long after. The shock of the triple tragedy seemed to destroy the man's interest in life. He neglected his profession and slipped lower and lower in the scale of life until he became a common bum.

One night he drifted into a cheap lodging house on the Bowery. There he found some copies of the Bible left by a Bible society. Because he had nothing to do, he took down a volume and opened it at random.

The wisdom of the Bible is so fundamental that we can find everywhere something that will fit our case. That man found something for him. Some penetrating voice seemed to be speaking to him. The result was that he awakened to a new realization of life; took a new grip upon himself, and regained his position of usefulness.

It is interesting to know that he later dedicated his life to the work of being a missionary in the slums of New York.

Daily Fashion Hint

INTERESTINGLY PLANNED

Since black crepe satin is one of the most fashionable materials of the season, it is the logical fabric for this ultra smart Paris model. Three sections joined in diagonal outline compose the blouse front, the back being in one piece. The fullness in the skirt is gracefully arranged at the sides, with added length at the left side to provide an uneven hemline. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 39 inch crepe satin.

Fashionable Pattern No. 4233. Sizes, 14 to 18 years and 34 to 40, 45 cents.

Summer Street Frock

A simple, inexpensive American-designed frock for the summer wardrobe of the business girl is this printed chiffon voile creation, in which stripes of blue and white. Black crepe cuffs, and the shoulder bows, so popular this season, are the decorative features.

ORATORICAL

he went down to his defeat smiling, like a true sportsman. He was first to reach Young Olson and offer his congratulations and express the hope that the Massachusetts young man goes home victor in the national competition two weeks hence at Washington, and the international contest next October.

There isn't any question of the superiority of Young Olson, of Young Glass, Miss Avis June Geyer of Kokomo, Ind., the Hoosier representative, or of Miss Elizabeth Cecilia Siteman, of the Portland (Me.) High school. They are finished orators, with poise, with personality, with the courage of their convictions, and with an ability to present logical arguments, maintain the proper sequence of thought and carry an audience along with them. Olson chose for his subject, "The Constitution—An Appreciation." The Paramount thought in his speech was the necessity of young manhood and young womanhood in the United States, standing four-square for the fundamental law of the government, and pointing the moral that if this is brought to pass the future of the United States may be considered even more secure than today is the case.

There were approximately 900 men and women present in Mass hall, where the zone finals were presented. It was an attentive audience, and an appreciative one. Olson is going in for law. He is 18 years of age, just past, and intends to enter Wesleyan university this fall. His father is a city letter carrier in Worcester. Olson is captain of the debating team at Worcester High and finished second last week in an intercollegiate debate at Colgate. The boy has a fine stage presence, his deportment is enhanced by his extreme height and he has spontaneous gestures which lend just the proper and dignified emphasis to his discussion at the correct moment.

The Ohio representative, Nixon, rated inside the first five.

of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, has sent word to party leaders in the capital that the Pennsylvania bill will go to Kansas City unfettered by instructions and unbound by promises.

They will not even be bound to cast a complimentary ballot for the secretary of the treasury, according to a word reaching here although this session may be resorted to in order to hold the delegation intact in the early balloting.

To some extent the same is true of the delegates. Although here he Hoover managers claim 47 votes outright. The majority extends that the Hoover claim of 47 votes is excessive but irrespective of whether it is or not, the V-k votes and a majority of the Pennsylvania delegation are necessary to nominate Hoover.

The next 30 days will be considerable jockeying and conferring among the party leaders and the candidates' managers. It may even be that the nominee will be settled within that span of time through agreement or coalition. Present indications are, however, that such will not be the case and that the Republicans will go into the convention with the issue still in doubt and New York and Pennsylvania sitting in the saddle.

CHARGE HOOVER RAPPED TARIFF

Washington, May 12.—Charges that Secretary of Commerce Hoover prepared in 1920 a statement opposing the Republican protective tariff and endorsing the league of nations were aired at the senate's presidential campaign funds investigation today.

Ex-Rep. James W. Good of Iowa, Hoover's campaign manager, on the stand for the second day, disclaimed any knowledge of the statement.

Senator Barkley (D) of Kentucky asked whether Hoover withheld the statement in the belief he would have a better chance to capture the Republican than the Democratic nomination. It was reported that Julius H. Barnes, former head of the grain corporation, persuaded Hoover to drop his Democratic campaign, Barkley said.

Tru To Determine Why Young People Are Leaving Farms

"How can we keep the young people on the farm" was the subject of an interesting discussion at a meeting of Willow Grove grange Friday evening at the hall, southwest of Salem. The discussion was posed by Roy Whinnery.

The fact that there is not so much money in farming as in some other occupations was one of the causes given for the young people leaving the farm.

A question box was a feature and questions of interest to the members were discussed.

The music for the evening was furnished by Emerson Conrad and children, Nelson, Juanita and Virginia and they gave both instrumental and vocal selections. Mrs. Eva Mollen gave a reading and Mrs. Herbert Lora contributed a citation.

One candidate was obligated in the first and second degrees. The Guilford grange will put on the lecture hour program at a meeting in two weeks.

The dramatic committee of this grange will give a play, "The Dutch Detective," on May 23.

At the Juvenile grange meeting the time was devoted to drill work.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

She Discusses the Latest Evening Dresses.

I SOLD an attractive gown to Miss Johnstone the other day that displayed so many new notes that it is worth setting down.

It was of black chiffon over satin and had the irregular hemline that is so tremendously popular now. Over an all-around shortness, it had a flare of chiffon that almost touched the heels in back, cascading down with a graceful line. Horizontal pleating on the blouse section which fits snugly about the hips at the low line and a low décolletage, pointed with a soft tie of chiffon trailing over the skirt, completed it.

It is representative of a perfect host of the newer dresses which are being made in chiffons of varied color—plain or printed. The new taffetas are subjected to the same treatment except that the irregular length is draped for the most part from one side instead of at the back. In the chiffons, fluttering draperies, inserted godets and handkerchief points are all used to preserve the important uneven hemline and since the line is almost universally becoming, it is not likely to pass quickly.

Tulle, net and taffeta are most becoming to young girls. For the older woman French designers prefer lace, satin, velvet and the patterned silks. If she is plump they advise her to avoid lame, brocades, shiny satins, and heavy velvet, and to choose instead lace and corsette and the dainty silks. All these are slimming. Ring velvet is an exquisite material and for a short time was all the rage but it proved so fragile that many dress houses have discarded it in favor of chiffon velvet.

No one neckline seems to be more favorable than another. It may be pointed, round, oval or square—the square being, perhaps, the newest line.

Markets

MARKET CLOSED TODAY
New York, May 12.—A six per cent call loan rate did not impose an effective barrier to the rise in prices of the railroad, motor and specialty stocks on the New York Stock exchange this week.

The New York Reserve Bank took no action on the re-discount rate, and brokers' loans achieved an extremely high increase of about $80,000,000 making a new peak in speculative borrowings for all time.

In order to ease the pressure on the mercantile facilities of the exchange and the commission houses, the governors ordered that the big market close today, and the example was followed by the curb and some of the out-of-town exchanges.

The effect of this closing was to concentrate considerable odd-lot buying on Thursday and Friday.

General Motors corporation fulfilled expectation by declaring an extra $2 cash dividend, in addition to the $1.25 regular quarterly dividend on their common stock. If this rate can be maintained it will mean an annual per cent movement to stockholders of $13 a share, amply justifying the current price of the stock.

The motor car business as a whole was shown up in a favorable light, and stocks of the well-known motors continued to move forward under the "stimulus" of strength professional and cut side buying.

The steel corporation's tonnage report showed a decrease of 493,000 tons in advance orders during April but the steel trade authorities attributed this to the increase of prompt delivery orders over deferred delivery. They showed that production was keeping up with the fast pace set earlier in the year, and consumption in large volume.

The same was true of the copper trade, and various sections of the metal industrial. United States Steel again at 150 for a gain of about six points from the low of the week, with short covering an important factor in the forward movement in the week-end. Independent steels were uncommonly active and strong, with Bethlehem, Ludlum and Youngstown in the lead. American Smelting led the advance in the coppers, and Chile, Anaconda and Kennecott following closely.

After losing the bulk of the new gains recorded in the preceding week, the standard and independent oils rallied sharply. First quarter earnings for all of the oil companies made a disappointing comparison with the same period last year, and gasoline markets for the week were decidedly irregular, but Wall Street believes the oil industry has passed through the worst that can happen for a considerably long period, and will show a large measure of improvement this year. Oil stocks have been quite fully liquidated, and demand for the well-known issues this week was excellent.

Expectation of improved earnings and larger dividends for the stocks of the leading railroad was a strong factor in the "dividend rally" this week. Canadian Pacific and New York Central constituted a spectacular bullish advance, moving to highest price of last year.

Wheat declined sharply at the interior points as the rise of the bearish government report and the uncovering of stop loss orders. Commodity markets were generally firm.

HOW SWINDLERS MARK THEIR PREY

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

IN the field of fake investments suckers are graded according to their reaction to the appeal of glittering schemes. A name on a sucker list of investors may have a valuation anywhere from zero to $100.

If your name is on the list and it is known that you invariably "Investigate Before you Invest," your name is checked to indicate that you are too hard to sell to be worth cultivating further, but if you invest first and investigate afterward, your name is checked to indicate that you are easily swindled and for this reason your name is worth $100—not to you, but to the owner of the list, for the names of those who invest without investigating are choice prospects and sell readily to promoters.

Certain names on a sucker list are checked to indicate "easy picking," and by this is meant that in addition to being ignorant on investments, those checked are not disposed to ask advice of their banker but go ahead and invest in anything from gold bricks to stock in some proposed company for the exploration of diamond fields on Mars.

Those whose names are listed are what might be called marked investors—investors who have been marked for slaughter—investors who have been marked to have their savings taken from them by unwarranted promises of fabulous riches.

If your name is on the sucker list and you are receiving "wild-cat" literature, be on your guard, for not only one but a whole tribe of "wild-cat" promoters are hot on your trail. If you are skeptical as to the extent to which they will go in order to sell you an interest in their fake schemes the following should prove illuminating, as it itemizes the literature and stationery sent to each name on a certain sucker list of investors. This literature was mailed in 91 different mailings. Each person received:

- 125 envelopes
- 13 one-page letters
- 22 two-page letters
- 6 three-page letters
- 2 four-page letters
- 62 fake newspapers containing fake write-ups
- 39 pieces of highly lurid prospectus material
- 34 return addressed postal cards
- 72 subscription blanks

making a total of 363 pieces of literature weighing 11 pounds and costing approximately $50. In addition to this there were numerous telephone calls and personal interviews.

Any person receiving a flood of

In reaching for more, you may lose what you have.

Literature calling attention to certain investment chances has a good reason for watching his step lest he be weakened and invest and finally lose his savings. If you are receiving "wild-cat" investment literature it is a good indication that your name is on a sucker list and that it, with other names, is being sold to irresponsible promoters and consequently you may expect to continue

Washkowsky's Old Shoe

We call the attention of the American Bankers Association to the case of Mr. Washkowsky of Brooklyn. Mr. Washkowsky is hard working and thrifty, but like so many of us his education is defective; who is to blame for that we don't know. Mr. Washkowsky has been saving a part of his weekly wages for a long time, but hasn't told Mrs. Washkowsky where he was depositing his nest egg. That was a mistake, probably, but an inquiry into it belongs to another branch of education with which it is probable the bankers association cannot be held to have any concern.

But with Mr. Washkowsky's depository it has. He chose for that purpose an old shoe. He kept the shoe and its mate in his closet, and up to the other day had tucked away in one of them savings amounting to $350. On that same other day Mrs. Washkowsky, rummaging Mr. Washkowsky's closet like a good housewife, seeking what she could throw away or transfer to another place where Mr. Washkowsky couldn't find it, as is the habit of good housewives, found this same pair of old shoes. We suppose she said to herself, Mr. Washkowsky not being present to have it said to him, "Isn't that just like a man?" and acting thereupon just like a woman she sent the shoes to the cobbler to be repaired. It was either that or the ash barrel for them, and being frugal and Mr. Washkowsky paying the cobbler bills anyway, she sent them to the cobbler.

A distraught man was Mr. Washkowsky when he next went to make a deposit in his old shoe. "What new place," he asked in that martyr tone affected by husbands on similar occasions, "have you found for my old shoes?" Mrs. Washkowsky told him, expecting to be praised for her thoughtfulness. Women—but that's another branch of education.

Mr. Washkowsky went to the cobbler and found his shoes, but not the money, which we cannot but feel is not remarkable. We hope he will find it, but he hasn't yet, which again should cause no astonishment.

But what we would like to hear from the American Bankers Association is what steps it is taking to discourage people of magpie habits from keeping their money in stoves, shoes, mantle clocks, behind wall pictures, under floor boards and similar places. We have made no exact calculation, but from casual evidence we are inclined to believe there are enough furbs hidden away in such places in this enlightened and progressive country to pay off the national debt. Not that we advise paying it off, because that would leave congress nothing to fuss with Mr. Mellon about; but if deposited in banks our banker might have some to lend when we need it, which he now never has; he says money is very scarce. We hold it is not; it is merely in Mr. Washkowsky's shoe.

Seeing that we have been pursuing education, or something called that, for several centuries, we cannot but feel this is a bad showing and that the bankers association is somehow responsible. It hasn't sufficiently impressed on the people that it has banks and what they are for. Mr. Washkowsky hasn't heard. And there are a lot of him in this country.—Kansas City Star.

Girls Working Way Thru College, Miss Much, Dean States

Columbus, May 12.—Failure to adjust themselves economically, emotionally and mentally are the reasons given by Dean Esther A. Gaw, women's head at Ohio State university, why 35 per cent of university freshmen girls do not return for a second year of study.

"Girls who must depend upon self-support have a one-sided career," Dean Gaw declares. "They lack money for the little things that make college life pleasant and because they have no time for recreation, they suffer social isolation."

Dean Gaw has stated that about 100 girls are now working their way through school at Ohio State.

"Most cases of emotional maladjustment are caused when students fail to do as well in class work as they had expected."

"One reason for the lack of full development to college life is caused by the friction between sorority and non-sorority groups. Cleavage to a group which is not congenial is a great obstacle in the path of adjustment," Dean Gaw believes.

Careful steps are being taken, according to the Ohio State dean, in eliminating the causes for the maladjustment of the freshmen co-ed. If girls are compelled to work during the college career, they are encouraged to shorten their daily schedules of work to give more time for recreation. To curb the emotional maladjustment now being taught how to study at the beginning of a freshman year.

Although the electoral college has been a part of the electoral system of the United States since the foundation of the government, it is not mentioned by name in the federal constitution and it was not until 1845 that the title was officially recognized.

Cigarette Almost Did for Youthful Artist

How M. Poushnikoff, the famous pianist, made his first appearance on the concert platform makes an interesting story.

Although he was then barely five years old he played beautifully and he was billed to give a joint recital with an adult violinist.

The latter went on the platform first and played a solo. Meanwhile Poushnikoff, left alone in the artist's room, discovered that his colleague had left a half-smoked cigarette on the mantelpiece. The temptation was too great, and he smoked it.

He managed, in a sort of stupor, he says, to get through a Beethoven sonata, but at the very last chord he fell asleep, and had to be carried off the platform, put into a carriage and driven home.

A Man's Home

How many things occur to keep a man at home, to prevent his yielding to his inclination to wander? If I would extend my walk a hundred miles I must carry a tent on my back for shelter at night or in the rain, or at least I must carry a thick coat to be prepared for a change in the weather. So that it requires some resolution, as well as energy and foresight to undertake the simplest journey. Man does not travel as easily as the birds migrate. He is not everywhere at home, like flies. When I think how many things I can conveniently carry I am wont to think it most convenient to stay at home. My home, then, to a certain extent, is the place where I keep my thick coat and my tent and some books which I cannot carry.—Thoreau.

Every Boy Needs a Dog

Every boy should grow up with a dog, for the association thereby will make of the boy a fairer, kinder, truer man, some day, when he becomes a man. He will learn to love fairness, justice and mercy. Just as he will come to hate meanness, enmity and cowardice, through daily contact with his big-eyed, shaggy-coated, understanding friend. If the boy unkindly is vicious, intemperate, or destructive, he will find in his voiceless associate a wordless rebuke for the sins of his commission. It is the inevitable way of a dog with a boy, and the dog knows, moreover, because through him the infinite forces of the universe are functioning as freely as the wind through winter trees.—David Arnold Balch in the New Age Illustrated.

Brick Proves Durability

A chimney of brick 175 feet in height stands like a sentinel over the abandoned mining town of Belmont, near Tonopah, Nev. This chimney, erected in the boom days of the town, showed the spirit of the men who sought better living conditions in these communities. It sprang up overnight. Brick was hauled from Sacramento, a distance of more than 500 miles, by means of ox teams. Withstanding the attacks of weather for 55 years, this chimney is in as good condition now as it was when erected by the gold-mad first inhabitants of the town. It gives mute testimony to the durability of common brick.

Didn't Know Him

Margie, aged five, was surprised when, after her mother read her a story from a humor column she told the little girl the story was about herself. The story told briefly of Margie's interest in birthdays and how on February 22, when her older brother told her that it was George Washington's birthday, Margie had asked excitedly: "What did he get?" When her mother insisted that she was the little girl that made the remark, Margie said, disgustedly, "Why, mother, I didn't say that. I don't even know George Washington!"—Indianapolis News.

Crack Shot

A man brought home three turkeys from a shooting match. His neighbor and four-year-old were congratulating him on his success. The father told his neighbor he was a crack shot. The turkeys were being discussed at dinner and the neighbor informed the family that the shot was with fine accuracy and never burnt on one this bit.

PEACE SOCIETY ENTERS SECOND CENTURY TODAY

Members have high Hopes
Of Seeing Warfare
Stop In World

Cleveland, May 12.—The second century of the American Peace Society began here today with a board of directors meeting to determine the policies and position in regard to resolutions adopted by the delegates from the floor of the world conference on international justice, sponsored by the society, Friday.

The society goes into its 101st year with high hopes for world peace becoming an actuality within the life-span of this generation. Started amid host and jeers 100 years ago, today the organization's goal was considered in light by a majority of the delegates with the people of the world crying for permanent peace and declaring that "war is no longer inevitable."

Because of divergent reports from different commissions, considerable fever was created on the conference floor Friday, and much dissatisfaction was expressed in plain terms by delegates, which was best summed up by Edward T. Devine, representing the social agencies, when he said: "It seems to me that we ought to be consistent. To pass such resolutions would be equivalent to saying we think one thing in church on Sunday and something different in the counting house on Monday."

Knowledge of History Duty of Citizenship

There never was a time when the average man needed to know more about the continuity and tradition of his race than in this age, when he is beset on all sides by agitators who seek to trample under foot anything that custom has hallowed or experience taught us to be true. Bacon advocated the reading of history as making men wise, and it is to be hoped that this revival of interest in our country's story is being undertaken in the spirit that ought to underlie all our reading, not that of blind acceptance, or that of contradiction, but with an open, alert mind, so that we may weigh and consider well before lending our support to or withholding it from any proposed political reform. The reading of history is the first duty of citizenship.—Exchange.

ANDY PAYNE NOW HEAD BUNIONEER

Leads the Pack Again As Pete Gavuzzi Falls Out Near Fremont

Fremont, O., May 12.—The "bunion derby" streamed out of here for Elvira today with Andrew Payne, the Claremore, Okla., boy once more at the head of the pack.

The youthful Oklahoman was in that position by virtue of the ill fortune which finally overtook Peter Gavuzzi, the Southampton, England, runner, and forced him out of the race.

Gavuzzi, who headed the field through Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and half of Ohio, was found late yesterday in a ditch, 35 miles west of here, calmly smoking a cigarette. He had dropped from sheer exhaustion.

"My teeth!" explained the game little runner. "They have been threatening me for two weeks. They finally got me. I haven't been able to eat anything but soup for two weeks. With malnutrition sapping my strength there was nothing to do but quit."

Quered as to his future plans, Gavuzzi smiled and said: "I guess I go on the program-selling crew now."

Salo First in Fremont
John Salo, Passaic, N. J., Finnish-American, was first in the transcontinental grind to reach here over the 64.17-mile course from Wausau, Wis. He finished in 10:38:24. Salo's time was 8:58:43. Formerly in third place, Salo is now runner up to Payne.

The New Jersey Finn's elapsed time for the 329.2 miles from Los Angeles is 48:52:05. Payne's elapsed time is 44:48:05. He finished yesterday in a tie with Philip Granville, Jamaica, negro, in 10:38:24. Granville is now in third place with an elapsed time of 47:20:42.

Harry Abramowitz, New York, finished fourth in 9:49:50. His elapsed time of 52:30:43 increases his grip on tenth place.

Louis Perrella, Albany, N. Y., and Frank Von Flue, Kerman, Calif., sixth and eleventh in elapsed standings, ran a dead heat for second in Fremont in 9:41:43.

Perrella's elapsed time is 49:25:08 and Von Flue's is 53:42:19.

Mike Joyce, Cleveland, finished in 10:59:41 for an elapsed time of 92:51:54.

Gavuzzi was extremely depressed over being forced to give up his chance for the $25,000 grand prize. He suffered from an ulcerated tooth which he refused to allow dentists to pull. The offending molar's gum was lanced early yesterday and afforded the runner temporary relief.

Grade Loop Games

McKinley Fifth and Sixth grades won both games from Columbia school Fifth and Sixth grades on the Columbia school diamond Friday. The scores were: McKinley Fifth 17, Columbia Fifth 10; McKinley Sixth 12, Columbia 10. Prospect Fifth and Sixth divided their games at Centennial park grounds. Scores were: Prospect Fifth 14, Fourth St. Fifth 2, Fourth St. Sixth 9, Prospect 8.

FIGHT RESULTS

At New York—Phil Scott, English heavyweight champion, outpointed Roberto Roberti (10).
Big Boy Peterson, New Orleans heavyweight, won decision over Rudi Wagner, of Germany (10).
Pierre Charles, of Belgium, drew with Arthur De Kuh, Italian heavyweight (10).

At Toronto—Frenchy Belanger, Canadian flyweight, won decision over Frisco Grande, New York (10).

At Omaha—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York welterweight, scored technical knockout over Billy Drake, of Düsseldorf, Germany (10).

New York—Elinor Glynn's apartment has a color scheme based on the theory that one's moods respond to the vibrations of hues around one. For instance the writing room is in turquoise; it makes thoughts brilliant. Her secretary's room is the hue of the darkest part of the American beauty rose, because the secretary is young and beautiful and should be surrounded by love.

Detroit—Mayer Edge has a bright young nephew who has shown so much skill in aviation that the mayor finally has taken a ride aloft with him. The name is Lindbergh.

BROOKLYN TEAM READY

Wilbert Robinson, genial and rotund manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Max Carey, veteran fly-chaser and captain, have gathered a team of snappy ballplayers with which they hope to finish on top of the National League.

Victorian Winner Of Preakness And Looks Good For The Derby

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, May 12.—Victorian's price for the Kentucky Derby, to be run at the classic Downs one week from today, has receded like a freshman's chin as a result of some overnight reflection upon his winning performance in the Preakness late yesterday afternoon.

The Whitney colt probably was no better than 8 to 1 in the Derby book this morning, whereas he was 15 to 1 on the eve of the Preakness and as high as 20 to 1 last week.

He would be held even lower today, if it wasn't for the fact that Reigh Count is as low as a snake in a wagon track already and you can't stool the boys in by offering them short money on everything in sight. As it is, the Preakness probably will make the odds lengthen materially on quite a few public choices for the Derby and, if you think I don't mean Nassak, Distraction, Browns, Pete Wrack, Bobashela and kindred disappointments of the Preakness, then you don't give me credit for a one and three-quarter inch clearance above the eyebrows.

HOME RUNS RUIN INDIANS' HOPES

Uhle Defeated by Yanks As Ruth and Gehrig Swat the Ball

New York, May 12.—Philadelphia today appears to be the only team capable of stopping the New York Yankees from blasting their way to another American League pennant.

Cleveland, the west's strongest representative, could take only one of three games from the world's champions.

Timely home runs by Ruth and Gehrig ruined the Indians on successive days. Yesterday Gehrig smacked his fourth circuit clout of the season with the bases full. And the Yanks finally conquered George Uhle, who was rushed to the mound from the bull pen in the ninth. Paschal's unexpected bunt in the ninth with two out tied the score and Meusel's double won the game in the tenth, 7 to 6.

Those amazing Athletics have copied 13 of their last 14 starts. Yesterday they kayced Sam Gray, former Mackman who has been a perfect wow as a St. Louis pitcher and took an 11 to 5 slugfest from the Browns.

In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals have won five straight. Alexander the Great fanned nine as the Cards nosed out the Phillies, 3 to 2.

The Red Birds have been greatly strengthened by two trades made within as many days. They got George Harper, slugging New York outfielder, and Jimmy Wilson, crack Philadelphia catcher, in exchange for the injured Bob O'Farrell.

With Pitchers Jones, Root, Carlson and Nehf in good shape, the Cubs are likely to surprise the Giants in the series starting today. Yesterday Nehf, the world series hero of other years who failed to make good with the Reds last season, held Brooklyn to five hits and won a 3 to 0 duel from the great Dazzy Vance.

Lucas, the redhead of the Reds, blanked the Boston Braves by a 3 to 0 score. Washington finally trimmed Detroit, 9 to 5, and the Red Sox regained seventh place from the White Sox when Todd's homer put Chicago on the short end of a 4 to 3 count.

Among the many benefits to be derived by using City Loan service is that which enables the borrower to quickly get the money to save his auto, his furniture, his electric appliances, even his home, when he is forced by circumstances to miss his regular payments.

In emergencies of this kind sometimes hundreds of dollars already paid are sacrificed that could easily be saved by a timely visit to our office. The fact is that in most cases of this kind our borrowing friends are agreeably surprised to find that City Loan payments are much less and terms a great deal more considerate than were provided for under their original purchase contract.

love story which is just as thrilling as the capture of pirates ships and crews. Scenes were taken at Tripoli and at old Salem, Mass.

Pelo and society crooks—new hazards in the screen life of Tom Mix—have a prominent part in the plot of "The Arizona Wildcat," the Mix film coming to the Grand the last two days of the week. Playing opposite Tom is pretty Dorothy Sebastian. The story of the picture concerns an effort of a gang of crooks to unload a lot of worthless stock among some millionaires, and later, the attempt to swing an important polo match.

Marion Davies will try some clowning in "The Patsy," the comedy which the State will exhibit Monday and Tuesday. Marie Dressler and Lawrence Gray aid Marion in this King Vidor entertainment. Dropping heavy romance for the moment, Miss Davies takes the role of a tomboy who becomes a jazz age flapper when the right young man touches her feminine self.

Low Cody is back at philandering, but this time more or less a defenseless type who just crushes hearts despite himself. In "Wickedness Preferred," coming Wednesday and Thursday, he will be seen as an adventure author who never has seen the places about which he concocts hair-raising tales. But his feminine readers think he has lived his stories, and they fall hard. Aileen Pringle has a leading part.

And now for "Chang," that epic of the jungles of Siam, and made by men who filmed "Grass," which has never been surpassed. "Chang" is the actual life film-story of a small jungle family and its adventures with the wild beasts. The picture is called a pictorial achievement of the struggle for existence and it is authentic in every particular.

Friday night at the Grand will be Amateur Night. These weekly programs have been a source of much pleasure to patrons of this house, and interest has continued to increase.

Full bills for the week are as follows:

GRAND

The Art of Being Beautiful

The present fad to grow thin is a good one. But the abuses perpetrated to attain slimmness are arousing some folk against the extremists.

Reducing should be done, where it is really a serious matter, under a doctor's advice. But where it is a matter of a few pounds we can do that ourselves by the simple method of less food and careful selection. Summer is the ideal time for reducing, for we do not miss the heavy meats, soups, fats, sweets, pastries, eggs and sauces that created the fat.

A free diet of freshly cooked vegetables, some uncooked, and plenty of fresh fruit is the first step. Plenty of bathing, but done once a day, before high noon. If very robust a cold shower may follow the warm bath. If not, temper the shower by taking off the chill. Now find a good alkaline drinking water, there are many of such, and drink freely, never less than four large tumblers a day. Plenty of exercise in the open, dancing indoors, early hours, will help the perspiration clear the pores. The diet helps from within.

Now about the diet. If you can make the supreme sacrifice, give up tea, coffee and cocoa. Buttermilk and any of the fruit aches may take the place of the "can't haves." All the fresh lettuce, dressed with lemon dressing, and other green salads desired, all the fresh vegetables in season. If you must have solids, let it be a little chicken, freshly caught fish boiled or broiled, two or three times a week. Plenty of onions, raw, boiled, baked and in salad. Mayonnaise made with butter instead of oil may be used. Asparagus, pineapple, onions and some of the other fruits are natural kidney physics and will clear those organs of impurities. As little bread as possible and that whole wheat and toasted. Natural sweets like maple sugar, honey and sweet fruit juice should gratify the craving for sugars.

STYLE EDICTS

The present passion for pleats is mounting so rapidly that fashionists are frantic in their search for new and interesting ways of presenting this mode.

In the frock shown at the left which is for street wear during the afternoon hours, a combination of fine wool jersey and satin, two of the most popular fabrics being shown for Spring, is used; the new bias pleating is featured.

While both the jersey and satin crepe are of French blue, the wide difference in the texture of the materials gives sufficient contrast to relieve any suggestion of monotony that might result from the use of but one color.

Naturally, the pleating makes the skirt quite full, but it hugs closely about the knees so that the slender silhouette is not sacrificed. Then, too, the snugly fitted peplum assures trimness around the hips and the blouse line is secured by a tight belt so that what little fullness that is comes above the waistline of the frock.

The narrow, finely pleated ruffle that fashions the collar is of bias pleating and the edges have been pulled out enough to give the rippled effect.

The plain turn-back cuffs of satin are repeated higher up on the sleeves by the two narrow bands of satin, also cut on the bias. The additional band on the blouse, the binding on the peplum and the belt repeat this striped effect.

The evening gown is of water-green crepe chiffon and, while extremely simple, it is with the simplicity of sophistication that the gown was fashioned.

Here, too, we find the bias pleating for fullness in the skirt with the snugly fitted bodice so essential for slender lines.

SCIENTISTS SAY MEN LIVED HERE MILLION YEARS

Smithsonian Experts Are In Possession Of Startling Data

Washington, May 12.—Man probably has lived on the American continent upwards of a million years according to recent discoveries made by Smithsonian Institute scientists.

Information indicating that man may have come to America in the Pleistocene or Glacial Age, has been obtained by a Smithsonian party working at Melbourne, Fla., under the direction of Dr. J. W. Gidley.

"Controversy as to the age of man in America has raged for decades and has been particularly active in recent years," said Dr. Gidley. "Additional facts pointing to man's early residence, obtained during the work just concluded, substantiates the firm belief of myself and other paleontologists that man really existed on this continent during the Pleistocene."

Remains Found

In 1916, according to a statement issued by Smithsonian, Dr. E. H. Sellards, at the time state geologist of Florida, discovered human remains at Vero, Fla., associated with fossil bones of animals known to have lived in the Pleistocene. Later an amateur collector made discoveries of similar remains at Melbourne and in 1926 the Amherst-Smithsonian expedition found a human skull in what were considered Pleistocene beds.

There were three principal geological strata in the area in question. The bones at Vero and Melbourne were found in the middle stratum in beds definitely considered of the Pleistocene. The question whether these bones were deposited in the middle stratum at a later date or whether they were deposited there originally was studied carefully by the new expedition. Gidley found to his own satisfaction that the human bones were placed in the Pleistocene stratum as it was being formed.

Digging into the Pleistocene stratum the expedition found such remains of man as bone awls, arrow heads and pieces of pottery. The animal remains found near appeared to have been of the late Glacial Age. The investigators considered that it would have been impossible for the human relics to have been pushed down from higher strata without leaving a trace.

Fixing The Time

"The human skull which we found at Melbourne in 1925 in the Ice Age strata was imbedded solidly in the sand," Gidley said. "We now say positively, therefore, that the human remains belong in this strata and they could not have been inserted later."

"Further, to give strong support of these conclusions we found an arrow head made by human hands near the middle of the Ice Age stratum and a few feet from the fossil bones of a Pleistocene mastodon."

The same general geological conditions were found to exist at Melbourne and Vero.

According to Smithsonian experts the Pleistocene Age existed from 100,000 to 1,000,000 years ago.

Image Of Mound Builders Is Unveiled Today At Columbus

Columbus, May 12.—A life size image representing what archaeologists believe to be a likeness of the Mound Builders that centuries ago inhabited the Buckeye state has been modeled by members of the Archaeological and Historical society at the Ohio State university here, and was to be unveiled this afternoon. The figure has been named "The Prehistoric Sculptor."

While archaeologists have found artistic examples of the handwork of the Mound Builders, there is nothing on which to base an accurate image of the prehistoric dwellers of Ohio. With this in mind they took measurements from a skeleton found in one of the mounds of the "first Ohioans" and created a figure that they believe portrays a likeness of the primitive man.

It is that of a male of about 30 years of age seated on a large stone. He is grasping a partially carved stone effigy pipe. At his feet are fragments of stone and flint. Standing against the rock seemingly ever ready for use, is his copper ax or tomahawk.

Around the "sculptor's" neck is a string of beads with several bear teeth found in an Ohio mound. A copper bracelet is on his right arm. A loin cloth, his only piece of clothing, is copied from a colored piece of clothing once worn by a Mound Builder.

Resembles The Indian

Indian, but yet there is a significant difference. The American Indian is described as tall and slim. This figure is slightly heavier built, with fine features, straight black hair and an intelligent forehead. The cheek bones are slightly lower than those of the Indian and the nose is long and thin without the habitual curve that is depicted on the features of the American Indian.

This undertaking, an official of the society said, is perhaps unique, for while the ethnological figures and groups have been constructed by several of the larger museums, they have been modeled from living Indians, while the so-called Mound Builders were racially the same as the American Indian as we know him, yet their culture was such as to render them at least a different people—and since no living representative existed to furnish the sculptor with a model the unique idea of using a skeleton was suggested, the official declared.

A typical Mound-builder skeleton, from one of Ohio's high culture mounds was selected and by making use of scientific methods of restoration the physical entity of a human being long gone has been reproduced.

Erwin F. Frey, of the department of fine arts at the Ohio State university did the actual modeling of the figure. James R. Hopkins, of the same department, colored it, using as his model Ralph W. Allen, an Indian student at the university.

Allen dressed in native costume will take part in the unveiling ceremonies.

Financial backing was supplied by a liberal patron of the museum. His name was withheld, but he is to be present at the Saturday ceremonies.

3 big features

found in no other low-priced six

Combined in the New Series Pontiac Six are scores of advanced engineering features. Every one is important. Every one contributes to the impressive quality of the Pontiac Six. Three of these advancements particularly are worthy of special consideration, because they are basic advantages found on no other low-priced six.

First, in offering bodies by Fisher, the Pontiac Six brings to the low-priced field not only the style and smartness, but also the luxury, roominess and staunch construction inherent in Fisher design.

Embodying the G-M-R (General Motors Research) cylinder head, Pontiac combines amazing smoothness and silence with economy of operation, using ordinary gasoline. And providing the thermostatically-controlled cross-flow radiator, it practically eliminates losses of water and alcohol and assures the proper temperatures for highest engine efficiency.

Bodies by Fisher—G-M-R cylinder head—Cross-flow Radiator... here are three big features that no buyer of a six in Pontiac's class can afford to overlook. If the New Series Pontiac Six offered no other exclusive advantages, it would still hold its rightful position as the world's finest low-priced Six.

Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875. Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Delivered prices include minimum handling charges. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

New York—The world, in the opinion of Dr. George J. Smith, chairman of the board of examiners of the New York board of education, would crumble in 50 years if it were left to women. "It would do so," Dr. Smith told the Culture club, "because it is impossible for women to master higher mathematics. Mathematics are absolutely necessary for culture and yet there is only a very small number of men who know it thoroughly."
